WHEREAS, Grace Martin Highley has devoted her life to the service of South Dakotans in need; and,

WHEREAS, She has consistently advocated for children's rights because children are not articulate, affluent or franchised; and,

WHEREAS, The fourteen South Dakota Governors before me, under whom she served, first as a Social Services Field Worker, then as Director of Child Welfare Services, and now as a Board of Social Services member, have all experienced Grace's commitment to people; and,

WHEREAS, Her zeal for improving South Dakota life for low-income families, especially, and children, generally, has motivated Social Workers across the State:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARVEY WOLLMAN, Governor of the State of South Dakota, declare October, 1978, as

and in honor of Grace Martin Highley, I enjoin all South Dakota human services professionals to focus their energies and attentions on identifying and solving the daily problems our children and low-income citizens face in each South Dakota community.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Twenty-Seventh Day of September, in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Seventy-Eight
